A THEME

"Give me a theme," the little poet cried,
"And I will do my part.
" 'Tis not a theme you need," the world replied,
"You need a heart."
—Richard Watson Gilder. "Poems." (Boston: Houghton, Miffin.)

* * *

There is a lot of us along Main Street and Broadway who are just like the little poet. Yes, you and I and the cop on the corner.

"Give us a theme," we cry—"and we'll do our part.

And the world comes back and replies—

"You don't need a theme. All you need is a heart."

* * *

Gee, if I could only get a break. If I could only get an opportunity I'd show 'em all; I'd show this little old world what I could do, we cry.

* * *

And in the meantime, while we are waiting for the big break; the big opportunity to come thumping on our door, we step over half a dozen or more small opportunities—any of which—would have led us to bigger and better things.

* * *

Funny, isn't it, how we all want to play the leading part in the Show of Life, or—the general with all the gold braid which leads the parade.

It's all perfectly all right for the other fellow to play a small minor role, or for the other guy to be a "buck" private. But shucks alive! —when it comes to asking a highly capable fellow like you and I and the cop on the corner to take such an insignificant part, that's altogether different, isn't it?

* * *

Of course it's only human to feel this way. Even some of our great men had the same complex and got away with it. And on the other hand, it was because some of our most noted men insisted on being the bride at the wedding and the corpse at the funeral that eventually brought about their down fall in public opinion.

* * *

"All you need is a heart," the world told the poet.

Or—in other words, all you and I and the cop on the corner need is the courage to go out and create our own opportunities.

* * *

There never was a time so rich in opportunities as the present. The world is hungry for men of leadership and ability. Men who can do things. Men who can roll up their sleeves and tackle a job with a spirit to win.

And such men do not need a theme. Why?—Because they have a heart.

CHAMBER TAKES ACTION CONNECTION STREET LIGHTING

Robertson Claims Other Members of Board of Supervisors Oppose Co-Operation in Lighting County Roads.

Pending further negotiations between the Truckee Chamber of Commerce and Supervisor Robertson regarding continuing payment of street lighting, the Board of Directors of the Utility District decided not to turn off the street lights but to let those that burn out remain out for the present.

The Chamber of Commerce initiated the movement to light the streets about seven years ago and the late Supervisor Chas. Hope cooperated with the people by agreeing to contribute $30 per month out of the Road Fund of this District. The Truckee Light & Power Co. who were then rendering the service agreed to furnish and light ten street lights for this sum. This sum is but a small portion of the cost of serving and furnishing the electricity for the fifty one lights now maintained by the Utility District.

Supervisor Robertson claims that the other members of the Board of Supervisors are strenuously objecting to his continuing to use any of the Road Funds for lighting the streets of Truckee, and the Chamber of Commerce is endeavoring to find out why they assume this attitude.

When the proposition was originally taken up by the Chamber of Commerce with the Board of Supervisors, the then chairman Mr. Eddy, assured Supervisor Hope that the Board as a whole was not concerned if he desired to expend a portion of the Road Fund for street lights and that it was a legal and permissable expenditure.

Alta California Boosts Truckee Winter Sports

People of the Truckee-Lake Tahoe-Sierra Region will be interested to know that Edward Morris, Managing Director of Alta California, Inc. is out to boost for winter sports in this region, and is showing a remarkable fine spirit of close cooperation.

Alta California Inc. devoted a portion of their radio program over KFBM a few nights ago to winter sports in this region and make mention of the SIERRA SNOW SPORTS —a new weekly publication being put out by Stanley Bavier and which is being given wide distribution on the Pacific Coast.

Mr. Morris' letter reads as follows.

January 5, 1933

Stanley Bavier,
Truckee, Repubican,
Truckee, California.
Dear Mr. Bavier:

Thank you for including us on your mailing list for your splendid new publication, Sierra Snow Sports, the first issue of which we have read with pleasure. You are certainly to be congratulated for your efforts in expanding the winter sports industry and we know that your little news sheet will be of great help in acquainting many with the various scheduled events and attractions to be found at this season in the Sierra region.

In concrete evidence of our desire to cooperate in every manner possible in the furtherance of winter sports activities, we shall devote a portion of our radio program over KFBK tomorrow night, January 6, at 8:30 P. M., to an announcement of the coronation ceremonies of your Mardi Gras Winter Queen, which we note is to take place Sunday. We shall also make mention of your Sierra Snow Sports publication, so we hope you will have the opportunity to listen in.

We are also giving your event and the news sheet some special mention in our column in the Sacramento Commercial News in its issue of tomorrow.

We would like to call your attention to a new slogan which we have just adopted, coincidental with the current "Buy American" campaign. We are advising our radio listeners as well as utilizing newspaper space to spread the gospel of "Play American," in other words, to spend money in our own recreational centers, rather than fill European coffers with hard-earned American dollars, particularly since our own Alta California winter sports areas are so excellently operated, accessible and perfectly adapted to fit the requirements of the most exacting enthusiast.

With kindest wishes for a successful and prosperous New Year, I am,

Sincerely,
Edward Morris.

Don't forget to take in the card party at the Catholic Parish House TONIGHT. A big time for everyone.

Miss Hazel Jensen has returned from a two weeks vacation spent in Berkeley and Los Angeles.

CALVIN COOLIDGE

The passing of Calvin Coolidge was a severe shock to his fellow countrymen. Especially so because he was in the prime of life, and it was naturally expected that he would be with us for many more years.

He was a typical Vermonter; strong, loyal, dependable and as true as the majestic Green Mountains which sheered up on all sides of his boyhood home.

To those who do not know the ways and mannerisms of the people of the New England hills, he was often misunderstood and frequently misjudged. But that he had a high sense of responsibility and a sincere desire in his heart to serve his countrymen to the very best of his capacity and ability, cannot be denied.

His New England background and early training made it utterly impossible for him to ever attain personality fame. Nor will he go down in history as a super-president. He will, however, be always remembered as an exceedingly high type of a man. A man who daily strived to live a life as God would have him.

TEN MOST BEAUTIFUL WORDS

When Wilfred J. Funk, poet and publisher, listed—'dawn, hush, lullaby, murmuring, tranquil, mist, luminous, chimes, golden and melody," as the ten most beautiful words in meaning, he apparently little dreamed in the manner in which the writers of America would re-act.

America's literati, fed by the Associated Press, set to work at once to be gay, flippant, satirical, personal, and abusive over Mr. Funk's choice of words as the tools of their trade.

In some instances, the discussion as to the ten most beautiful words has reached the heated stage. Henry Van Loon and Fannie Hurst have been especially annoyed at Mr. Funk's choice, and have not hesitated to heap abusiveness upon him.

Joseph Hergesheimer insists that—"words contain no general beauty in themselves," and Dr. Felix E. Schelling, professor of English at the University of Pennsylvania, quietly maintains, that "Words are valuable only in their associations and significance." We are inclined to agree with Dr. Schelling.

We believe that words in order to be classed as beautiful, must stand for something beautiful. Beautiful in strength and character. As a result we give the following words as our own version of beauty:

LOVE — NOBLE — WORK — LOYAL — WIFE — MOTHER — FAITH — FRIEND — HONOR.

THE RADIO PEST

The day will yet come when a psychologist in examining a patient to determine the extent of nerve endurance and self-discipline, will turn on the radio to a book critic attempting to expound his personal views pertaining the latest offerings of the press, and see just how long such a patient can stand the agony without grinding his teeth. or crying out for a glass of coca-cola or something a wee bit stronger.

Now pray what makes a book-reviewer think that he can helo his fellow man by propounding and expounding something which he, himself, has not sufficient ability or capacity to conceive and execute?

What is there that makes a book-reviewer feel that his own particular personal views pertaining to a book is worth telling the world about?

Just because a book-reviewer likes or dislikes a book, is that any reason why the next fellow should feel the same?

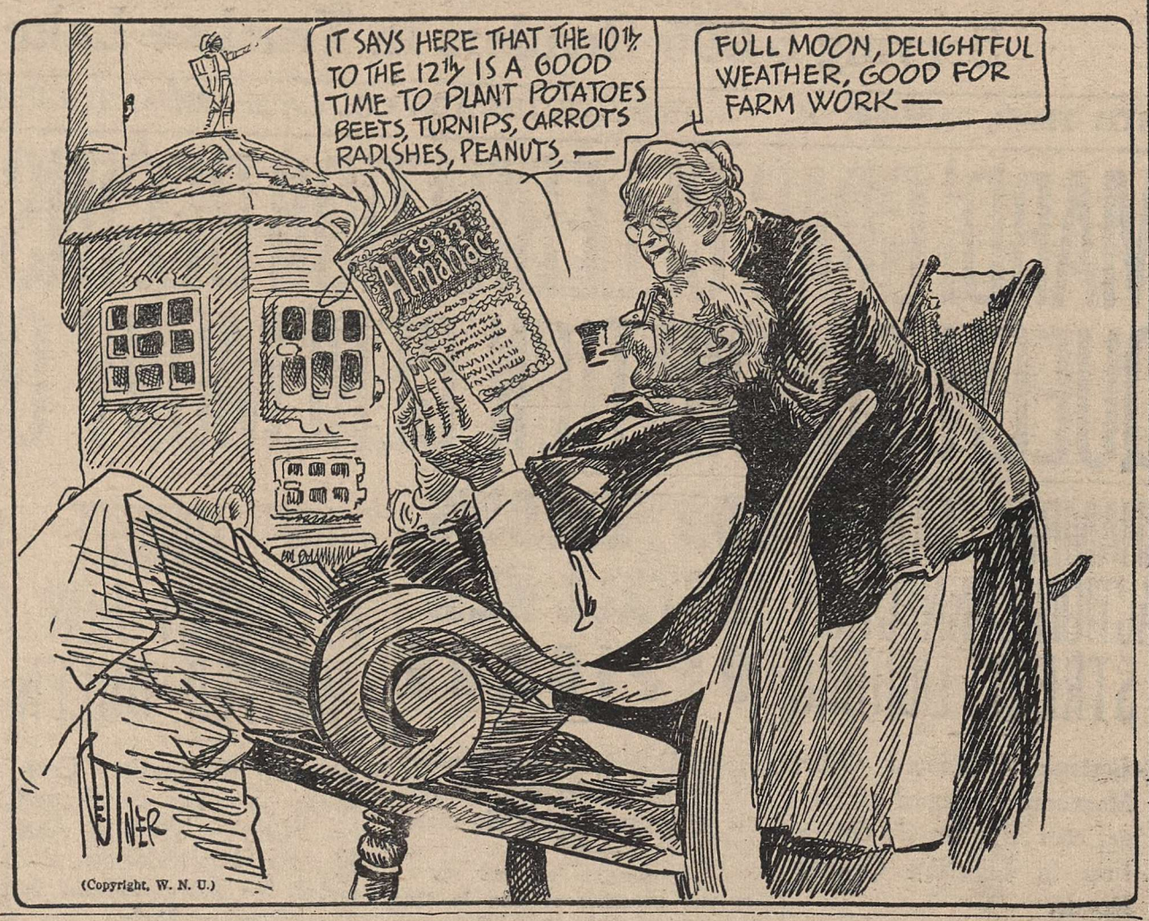

I may like limberger cheese, and yet you may dislike it exceedingly. You may enjoy Corot's interpretation of trees, as he has painted them on his world famous pictures, and yet—I may fail to see anything life-like about them. Or, I may thoroughly enjoy the music of Chopin, while you are disturbed and prefer music of an entirely different tone and shading. And thus I could go on indefinitely.

Our appreciation of books; music and art and all the rest for that matter; is based entirely on our background. If you have an inclination or acquire a taste for realistic descriptive writing you will greatly enjoy the works of authors who have the ability to turn out work of merit along that line. On the other hand if you prefer swift moving action and drama, you doubtlessly are not very keen about descriptive articles or stories, however clever and enhancing they may be. Or, to say it another way, if you are not a student of psychology, just how can you enjoy and appreciate works on psychology?

Over in China they execute a doctor who takes a case of illness and fails to effect a cure.

Wouldn't it be wonderful in this country if we refused to permit a critic to pass his personal views in public on either a book, a piece of art, or the rendering of any musical composition unless said critic has demonstrted his qualifications to speak with authority on his subject by first having produced something worthwhile in the particular field of art that he desires to act as a critic.

The New Almanac

CUBIC HALF-MILE OF PEOPLE

Hendrik Willem Van Loon's "Geography" has set readers to figuring and arguing. It begins with the statement that if all the human beings on earth could be put into a box a half-mile square and a half-mile deep and dropped into the Grand Canyon there would still be empty space left in the gorge, not to mention all the rest of the world. He estimates the earth's population at around 2,000,000,000 and he sets the average size of six feet tall, a foot and a half wide and a foot through.

The first effect on some readers is to make them feel insignificant. Others hotly question the author's mathematics. Wags and cynical readers suggest the stunt would not be such a bad solution to current world problems. The pacifist remarks, "There is that much room for us all, and still we go to war about little patches of land in Asia, South America and elsewhere."

Van Loon suggests that the human race, for all its insignificant bulk as compared with the globe on which it lives, has had considerabe influence on that globe, bending nature to its needs, and so on. Though true, it hardly seems adequate cause for enthusiastic back-patting. The human race has done better mastering its environment than it has mastering itself in its mass relationships. There is more work for it to do in that line.

OLD vs. NEW

By Stan Lee

"I'm desperately discouraged; things are all wrong. Tell me something to brace me up. Something new. A new thought I can carry in my mind all day to help me," said a distracted woman to a psychologist.

And the psychologist explained to this wretched woman that it was not something new which she needed, but a much better understanding of life: and that life was a very, very old story.

From time immemorial, there has been a big demand for new things; new diversions, new plays, new operas, new music and new inspiration. This intense craving for something new doubtlessly stimulates progress and increases civilization, but care should be exercised that we do not neglect to enjoy all the worthwhile things which have been passed down to us from years gone by, and to take advantage of what they have to offer for mental development. It's quite all right to show an active interest in new things but how much do you know of the old?

And there is another thought worth considering; do the really big and beautiful contributions of art of yester-year ever become old? To one hearing a composition of Wagner, Mozart, Tchaikovsky or Chopin for the first time, it is rather difficult to imagine such a musical selection as sounding passe. The rare beauty of tone and shading is there for all time. The inspiration lives on forever. And take the works of Ralph Waldo Emerson. Surely nothing new carries greater weight, or stirs the heart to more loftier heights.

As a matter of fact it is hard to understand how anything we really admire or love can ever grow old in our eyes.

We never tire of the sunshine, the birds, the glory of the stars and moon. We never tire of the forests and streams and glorious mountains. And so why should we ever get tired of the old masterpieces of music, art and literature?

Our love and appreciation of any of the arts, whether they be old or new, depends entirely upon our understanding of them. And so it would seem that we are not so much in need of new things to inspire us, as a much better understanding of the old and ever beautiful works of the masters of days gone by.

Paste Pot and Shears

TOWERS OF BABEL

From Tax Facts

It is natural that such an unhappy condition as now exists in the world should prompt many people to search for a remedy. Many are the schemes that have already been proposed, and some will receive enough publicity to attract the attention of the general public. How can the average man or woman tell which one deserves careful study and consideration.

The science of the production and distribution of wealth is based on natural law—or it wouldn't be a science. Whenever men set out to cure economic ills by methods that give no consideration whatever to these laws, we may know that they are not worthy of serious attention.

The public has been asked recently to consider the findings and proposals of a group of men at Columbia University. These men, or some of them at least, are engineers. Their professional work of bridge building or building-construction cannot be performed unless they take into consideration the laws of physics. Their structures would not stand. Have they given the same recognition to the natural laws that govern the body politic, for better or for worse?

These well-intentioned gentlemen have spent ten years accumulating evidence to show that modern machines and inventions have put us on the road to ruin. Why, we can make more bricks in five minutes than the Children of Israel could in five weeks. What in the world are houseless folk to do, If we are not careful, the bakeries will be turning out loaves of bread so fast they'll be running in the gutters—and we'll all starve to death!

It is obvious that these would-be economists have made one mistake in diagnosing our ills. They have fallen into the trap of supposing that men want work. They don't. Nobody wants work. Whenever men work because they "love their work," that expenditure of energy has ceased to be work and has become play. Men don't want work—they want what work produces. They want food and clothes and houses and automobiles and thousands of things that God didn't have time to make and can come into existence only by the exertion of human energy.

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

By Rose Bennington

"Happy New Year!" you hailed as you met him.
Joyfully he answered you then.
The Holiday spirit had not grown dim.
You were both remembering that Christmas Hymn,
"Peace on Earth, and Good Will to Men."
But will you remember as time goes on
And hold that thought sacred and dear?
Let brotherly loving never be gone?
Spread your Yule tidings from each early dawn
And make this a happy new year?

FRIEND

By Bert Cooksley

My fields are not too rich in grain,
My orchard trees are lean and few
But, friend of mine, come once again;
Ever their yield belongs to you!
The rooms within my house are small,
Their furnishings are not the best;
But, friend of mine, my home and all
It holds is yours—come you and rest!

TAHOE REGION NEWS

By CELESTE

Clear skies and mild days have prevailed during the past week at Lake Tahoe. Roads are in excellent condition and hundreds of parties have taken advantage of this circumstance and enjoyed a frolic in the snow.

Many Tahoeites motored to Sacramento to attend the California State Queen Coronation and Carnival held in the auditorium. The summit being in excellent condition afforded easy traveling. Many bare spots were evident.

The Coronation and Fashion Revue of the last word in Ski Costumes was both impressive and spectacular. A runway was provided for the promenade and each queen paraded before the audience in beautiful and original ski costumes. Each entrant was announced and after all had been stationed, the master of ceremonies, holding his hand above each entrant commanded the audience to applaud their favorite. It behooved a queen to have as many followers as possible. Three judges then consulted upon the merits of the contestant's poise, costume and popularity.

The charming and beautiful Miss Katherine Mojinga of Sacramento, sponsored by the Standard Oil Co. of California was proclaimed the Queen of California and will attend the tournament held in Southern California at Big Bear Lake on February 11, 12, and 13. Miss Mojinga wore a beautiful all white ski costume with a slight touch of color at the wrists and tops of white ski boots. She carried a pair of glittering silvered skiis and poles, an altogether stunning and dazzling outfit.

Miss Dorothy Guiltmann, sponsored by J. Breuner and Co. of Sacramento won second place. Miss Guiltman wore a charming vivid red ski costume.

Mrs. Merle Wergeland, and representing the Auburn Ski Club, won third place. Mrs. Wergeland was attired in the most beautiful and practical of blue serge ski costumes and carried a pair of cross country skiis. The winners and their Queen were awarded beautiful prizes, were photographed and feted.

Scotty Allen and his famous dog team gave an exhibition which almost brought the house down with applause. Miss Mojinga, accompanied Scotty Allen on his tour around the auditorium.

Vaudeville entertainment, as well as interesting speeches were afforded. At 10 P. M. a fifteen piece band furnished music for the Ball which followed.

An entire section was reserved for Lake Tahoe in an advantageous portion of the huge auditorium. Among those noted were Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Mayfield, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Anderson, Kathleen Anderson and Jack Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ogden, now in Sacramento, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Pomin of Idlewild, Mr. and Mrs. J. Howrigan, spending several months in Sacramento, and daughter Miss Barbara, Martin Spitzen, Mr. and Mrs. J. Duffee, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Henry, Mrs. M. R. Planett, Miss Celeste Plannett, Mr. C. Van Luven, Miss Sarah Crone, Mrs. B. West and the Tahoe Queen, Miss June West, Mr. and Mrs. R. Watson and daughter Miss Mildred, Harry Johaneson and many others.

The National Championship Tryout Tournament held in Cisco, under the auspices of the Auburn Ski Club was well attended by many from Lake Tahoe, Truckee and Reno. Some 250 automobiles were counted while parked on the highway by your reporter.

The Auburn Ski Club is to be commended for wonderful condition of the ski hill and the excellent shape in which it is kept. Roy Mickelsen, representing the Auburn Ski Club, and U. S. A. Olympic Champion won first place in the Class B jumps with a record of 161 feet. Mr. Mickelsen will be sent to Salisbury, Connecticut to represent the entire state of California at the National Championship Tournament on January 27, 28, and 29th.

Many other interesting events afforded entertainment for the lovers of winter sports, including Ladies Cross Country Race, Downhill Slalom Race, Class B jumping and the Langlauf for men. Mrs. Marie Henry was unable to enter the Ladies Cross Country Race as previously planned owing to unfortunate circumstances which prevented the Henrys and party from arriving in time for the race.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Watson motored to Cisco to attend the tournament on January 8th.

Captain and Mrs. Rose and son Holly were among those enjoying the Cisco Meet on Sunday, January 8th.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mathews of Tahoe City are spending several weeks in San Francisco and the Bay Region.

Fred Planett and Jack Eblen attended the Meet at Cisco on January 8th.

The Sierra Snow Sports Magazine, published weekly by Stanley Bavier, is one of the most unique and complete editions of winter sports and events. Don't fail to secure your copy. Lake Tahoe receives more than half of the advertisement afforded in this vest pocket edition. Hundreds of copies are sent weekly to all Winter Sports Clubs and distributed by all Sport Goods Stores in all the leading cities of the west.

The meeting of the Tahoe Ski Club held in the Tahoe Women's Clubhouse on Friday, January 13th will be devoted entirely to entertainment. Mrs. Marie Henry has secured a two reel film entitled, "Two Wagons, Both Covered," and starring the inimitable and beloved Will Rogers. The picture will be shown promptly at 8 P. M. atfer which bridge will be played and prizes awarded for high scores. Delicious refreshments will be served by the committee in charge. Don't fail to attend this entertainment which is being given for the purpose of defraying the expenses of sending our Tahoe Queen, Miss June West to Sacramento on January 7th.

Mr. C. Weller Atherton, president extends a hearty invitation to all members and their friends. A small admission will be charged, and a delightful time assured for all.

The snowplow made an appearance on the south side of the lake for the first time in three weeks. Many Tahoeites living on this side of the lake were jubilant and it is hoped the state will continue to keep the Tahoe Lake roads open

By "SWANEE"

"Swanee" wishes, as a committee of one, to compliment our "Republican" Editor for his sincere and artistic efforts in publishing his booklet "Sierra Snow Sports" now off the press, which contains a complete winter isports program for all events scheduled in these parts. It is done entirely of his own volition and at his own expense, and even those who have begrudged him praise in the past have admitted that he is expanding every effort to advertise and extol the beauties, benefits and sporting facilities of our glorious domain, near and far. I am sure it can be said truthfully that no other editor in the same space of time Mr. Bavier has been with the Republican, has done more than he to accomplish this end. And it is doubtful if any have done as much. Truckee and Tahoe go hand in hand throughout his booklet sharing honors and compliments as they rightly should. I feel sure that all who claim as home, this beauteous region, will vote Mr. Bavier, as I do, a sincere and hearty vote of thanks for his liberal, unselfish, unbiased efforts in behalf of our communities and his commendable whole-hearted co-operation.

If you should wish one of these booklets for yourself or friends, they can readily be obtained at the Republican office at Truckee.

Altho it has been stated by some that a snowplow was to be housed at Tahoe this winter for local use, no such procedure is contemplated by the State Highway Division. A recent letter from C. H. Purcell, State Highway Engineer at Sacramento, states in answer to inquiries, that the plow will only be sent over this way when not in use on the summit and main highways, they receiving first consideration.

Constable Carl Bechdolt of Tahoe returned on Sunday, after a successful hunting trip near Gridley. He was a member of Sheriff Elmer Gum's party, nearly all of whom shot the limit of geese.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Neilsen on Monday entertained Professor Henry Hinkle and wife at dinner, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Matthews on Tuesday.

Bruce Merrill and two boy friends, who spent the New Year's holidays at the C. W. Merrill home here, escaped possible injury when an enormous tree in the grounds of the Merrill home snapped off in the terrific windstorm which visited Tahoe on Monday, falling directly in the driveway leaving a high stump standing. The boys had been skiing and stood their skiis up near the tree, but were not about when it fell.

The high winds also damaged the electric light wires between Tahoe and Homewood causing a discontinuance of service for some hours while repairs were being made.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Atherton shortly after Christmas gave a birthday dinner party in honor of their niece Margaret, who became twelve years old. A number of her schoolmates and friends were invited and brought her many nice presents. Games helped to pass the afternoon away for the young people.

Otto Renpfer of Lake Forest, accompanied by Bob Harkness, had an unfortunate accident on Tuesday here. After having been to town they were returning home, when the car, which was being driven at a rapid speed, skidded off the highway near the old rock quarry north of Tahoe City, hitting a large pile of rocks. It was reported that Mr. Harkness was thrown thru the windshield, being badly cut about the head and face, necessitating a hurried trip to Truckee for medical treatment. Mr. Renpfer was severely shaken up. The car was badly wrecked.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Willis and daughter Anita of Auburn were visitors in Tahoe over the week-end.

Among Tahoeites who took advantage of the beautiful sunny weather on Sunday and motored to Truckee to view activities on the ski-hill or ice skating rink there were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Soll and daughters Agnes, Alice and Billie, and Chris Soll of Pine Lodge, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Pomin, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Irvine and son of Idlewild, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heller and daughter Rosalie, accompanied by Mrs. George Kehlet and son Fred, and Charles Scott and Budd Newton of Meek's Bay, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swanson and son, Florence Ford, Ray Matchem and Bill Topp of Sunnyside.

Among the younger set at Truckee on Sunday also were Misses Anita Willis, Kathleen Anderson, Florenc and Lillian Vernon, Carlo Vanni, Donald and Robert Cowell and Jack Anderson.

Jack Anderson returned to school at Sacramento Junior College on Monday, and Robert Pomin, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Pomin of Tahoe City returned to San Francisco the same day.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kirman Sr. and daughter were visitors in Truckee and Tahoe on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Atherton and niece Margaret have gone to their new home at Fallon for a short time. From there they will go to San Francisco to spend an extended vacation.

The Misses Ida and Maggie Pomin were hostesses at a lovely family dinner on New Year's Day at Tahoe. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Pomin and son Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Watson and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Pomin and baby.

Miss Sarah Crone gave an after Christmas dinner for some of the younger set of Tahoe just before New Year's. Those who partook of the tasty dinner served at the Squirrel House at her invitation were the Misses June West, Florence and Lillian Vernon, Mildred Watson, Mrs. Fred Cowell, Robert and Donald Cowell, Mrs. Robert Watson, and Mrs. W. Crone. Games of cards and dancing furnished the evening's diversion.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heller of Meek's Bay entertained as their guests for several days Mr. George Kehlet and son Fred, who was accompanied by Charles Scott and Budd Newton, all of Alhambra.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Warwick of the Observation Tower near Meek's Bay returned to Tahoe on Friday atfer having spent the Christmas holidays with relatives in Oakland.

Captain Hans Hansen of Rubicon Lodge, assisted by his friend Harry Grayson, entertained on New Year's Eve at an elaborate dinner party in honor of Mrs. George Kehlet and also as a farewell to Miss Rosalie Heller. Those who saw the old year out and the New Year in as Captain Hansen's guests were Mrs. George Kehlet, Fred Kehlet, Budd Newton, Charles Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heller and daughter Rosalie.

Miss Rosalie Heller of Meek's Bay left on Sunday for Alhambra where she will spend the winter. She will enter Beauty Culture College there, returning to Meek's Bay for the summer months.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Walker were hosts on New Year's Day at a turkey dinner to Captain Hans Hansen, Harry Grayson and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Warwick.

Ralph and Alice Phillips were recent visitors of Mrs. W. E. Jones of Antioch.

Caretakers and their friends this week broke the roads in both from Brockway and Emerald Bay, altho traveling by machine over them is a man-sized job.

Mrs. Hill, telephone operator at Homewood and Mrs. Leif Neilsen skied to Meek's Bay on Saturday where they were dinner guests of the genial Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heller.

On Sunday night Mrs. Bliss Hinkle and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Matthews were guests of the Chris Neilsens for dinner. Cards furnished the evening's diversion.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Matthews left on Monday for several week's vacation in San Francisco.

Mrs. Benny Mayhew, who has been quite ill for a week or more, is now on the road to recovery. Mr. H. D. Worden, who has been laid up for some time with the flu and other complications, is now able to sit up in a chair for a large part of the day, altho still very weak. Ted Marshall, recent pneumonia victim, is up and about altho confined to the house most of the time. Tahoe has seen more sickness this year than for many years past. Let's hope the epidemic is about over.

On Tuesday Mrs. Chris Neilsen of Sunnyside was hostess to a party of friends, serving a delicious luncheon around 12:30 noon. Bridge occupied the remainder of the afternoon. Those who shared Mrs. Neilsen's hospitality were Mesdames Benny Mayhew, H. D Worden and Charles Swanson.

Among those who went below to enjoy the festivities of Winter Sports Week as proclaimed by Governor Rolph were Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Mayfield, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Anderson and daughter Kathleen, Miss Sarah Crone, Mr. and Mrs. George West and daughter June, Harry Johansen, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Henry and children Patsy and Junior, Mrs. J. J. Planett and daughter Celeste, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Pomin and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Irvine and son. Tahoe seemed indeed deserted with all these good citizens away celebrating. It is regrettable that Tahoe failed to capture any prizes to add to her already long list, but she made a valiant effort and her townsfolk certainly lent their limit of moral support.

Tahoe visitors in Reno on Saturday included Ray Matchem and Bill Topp, Mrs. Earl Nelson, the Misses Sarah and Katherine Bacchi, and Mr. and Mrs. Chris Neilsen.

On Thursday N. R. Mayfield drove Red Anderson to Reno where he had his eye, which had caused him considerable discomfort, attended by an eye doctor.

Charlie Winslow, commander of the Truckee American Legion, expects to leave shortly for an extended motor trip southward. He contemplates traveling in easy stages, visiting along the way and stopping where fancy dictates. He anticipates returning to Truckee and the Lake in the spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Reuschenburg returned to Tahoe on Sunday bringing with them Reuschenburg's mother who is recuperating from a broken shoulder.

Plans have just been completed for the annual meeting of Alta California Inc., which will take place at the Senator Hotel in Sacramento on Saturday, January 14, starting at ten A. M. Particular attention will be given the publicity program set up for the year and the plans for stimulation of week end vacationist travel throughout the twenty-one counties comprising the organization.

The morning session will be divided into two major groups, the men to discuss publicity and advertising matters while the women will confer on beautification and the need for presenting an attractive Alta California to the traveling public.

Prominent state, federal and county officials will be in attendance at the meeting and, according to president F. L. Roohr, Butte county supervisor, indications point to a large attendance from throughout the Alta California region.

Judge John F. Pullen, of Sacramento, presiding justice of the third district court of appeals, will act as toastmaster during the luncheon meeting.

WHIPPING POST FOR WIFE BEATERS

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 12—(UP)—The whipping post for wife beaters may be proposed at the present session of the state legislature.

Superior Judge Graham declared for such punishment after hearing a divorce suit in which the wife testified her husband beat her with a leather belt.

"Such men should be led to the whipping post," he said. "I would like to see someone introduce such a bill before the legislature."

GET 1933 PLATES NOW. MOTORISTS WARNED

While thousands of motorists are now sporting the new 1933 license plates on their cars, a considerable number remain to apply before expiration of the renewal period, according to the California State Automobile Association. The period ends at midnight, January 31. After that time a penalty of one hundred per cent, as provided by state law, will be imposed on those who have failed to apply within the time limit. This means that they will have to pay $6 instead of $3 for their plates. By delaying until the final days of the period, it is pointed out, motorists face the chance of being caught in a last miniute rush, with delays and other inconvenience.

Plates are being issued by the Department of Motor Vehicles at offices in Sacramento, San Francisco, Oakland, Stockton, and Fresno. Mail applications are handled by the Sacramneto office. The Automobile Association is conducting a plate issuance service for members at its thirty-three offices throughout northern and central California.

KING SOLOMON NEEDED TO SOLVE THIS PROBLEM

ALTURAS, Cal., Jan. 12—(UP)—Modoc county's board of supervisors is embarrassed!

Recently a petition bearing the required number of signatures was filed with the board asking that the county government be changed to the charter form. The demand was backed up by the grand jury and under the law the board is compelled to call a special election to decide the matter.

But—there's no funds in the county treasury which could legally be used for such a purpose.

Frozen Car Tow

A car with a frozen motor should never be towed in an attempt to start it without first making sure that the pump shaft is free, according to the Free Emergency Road Service of the California State Automobile Association. There is danger of breaking the generator or water pump on cars with the pump and generator shaft driven from the fan pulley.

California's First Legislature Recalled; Was Colorful Affair

By HOMER L. ROBERTS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Cal. Jan. 12—(UP)—Eighty-four years ago, in the roaring "days of '49," California's first legislature convened in a dimly-lighted, adobe building that was the mission of San Jose.

Gold miners in boots and red shirts, bewhiskered attorneys in frock coats and plug hats, merchants, laborers and ministers constituted that first group.

They were just as serious, those six senators and 13 assemblymen, as any legislator present at the 50th session of the legislature that has just opened. But our pioneer lawmakers also had their moments of fun and frivolity.

That body was known as the Legislature of a Thousand Drinks," and it was well named. There was no drinking in the legislature room, but between the introduction of bills and the heated arguments over them, the lawmakers would adjourn to a nearby saloon to fortify themselves for the battle.

Speculators got busy in San Jose, and hotel rates and meals soared sky-high. Assemblyman George B. Tingley then proposed a bill to move the state capital to Monterey. So to dissipate the ill-feeling, San Jose "threw a party."

Ladies were scarce, but on the night of the grand ball there were ladies enough for everyone. Spanish senoritas garbed in gorgeous, colorful costumes, and American girls, blushing and flirtatious. It was a big night, and San Jose redeemed herself.

The session proceeded without interruption until one day a breathless, excited man burst into the legislative room and shouted:

"Oh gentlemen! Gold! I say, gold! My son dug it out! Right on Coyote river—seven dollars worth! He's only 8 years old. I have a load of sand in front of my house and more in the pot."

That news broke up the legislature. Dignified solons fled to stores, mobbing them for tin pans, shovels and picks. Clerks threw up their hands in despair. One historian reports seeing Dr. H. B. Chamberlain, speaker pro tem of the senate, in a hole digging, while Senators Lippincott and Heydenfeldt and Assemblyman Baldwin fetched water and washed out the gold dust.

Frozen Radiator

When driving in the higher altitudes during winter motorists should always drain their radiators to prevent freezing when stopping for the night, advises the Free Emergency Road Service of the California State Automobile Association. Even in the daytime the radiator may freeze if the car is left standing in low temperature weather for any length of time. Warm water is best for refilling the radiator.

BURGLAR TREATS HIMSELF TO NEW HAIRCUT

GLENDALE, Cal., Jan. 12—(UP)—Harry Hull, barber, wants to know if the police can trace a burglar with a few locks of hair as the only clue.

When he opened his shop he found it looted of equipment and cash. Further, on the floor was a litter of hair, evidence the thieves had given themselves a haircut.

Hull reported to the police station offering the hair as a possible clue.

WHO IS "BLINDCRAFT?"

Every self-respecting man or woman is on the alert for an opportunity by which to earn a livelihood for himself and family. The desire to be self-respecting, independent citizens is the essence of Americanism. When misfortune overtakes a human being, this desire and longing for independence remains. These qualities are mental and do not change with physical blindness. The urge of ambition comes from within. ?

"Blindcraft," an Oragnization incorporated under the State laws of California as a Philanthrophy, has long recognized the above facts. Situated on the S. E. corner of Howard and 7th Streets in San Francisco, "Blindcraft" operates in a three-story, modern, concrete building. The sole object of "Blindcraft" (a non-profit organization) is to furnish renumerative employment to as many blind men and women as possible, to furnish relief of various kinds to those blind who are unable to be employed, and to further the interests of the blind in general.

Years of experience and a world-wide survey bring the conviction that the most practical industry lending employment to the largest number of blind is that of broom making. In an earnest and sincere desire to give remunerative employment to a larger number of blind, "Blindcraft" is making a state-wide campaign to encourage the reservation of the Broom Industry for California's Blind. There are unlimited opportunities available for those with good sight; there are few for those who are blind. Not that it it difficult to teach a person without sight; on the contrary, almost any phase of mechanical work can be taught to a reasonably intelligent blind person. It is to sell the finished product in competition with machinery and sighted labor that presents the difficulty..

"Blindcraft's" Broom Department has a capacity of 150 dozen brooms per day. These brooms are well made of the best materials, guaranteed in every respect, and are ready for delivery and shipment to any distant point. To reserve the broom industry for the blind of California is a practical solution of the employment problem facing hundreds of blind throughout the State; a means of earning their livelihood in a clean, upright manner.

The name "Blindcraft" represents a trademark, which is registered in the U. S. Patent Office at Washington, D. C., and can be used only by the San Francisco Association for the Blind. Persistent radio advertising, plus letters and articles in local publications, are awakening the interest of the entire State. If every housewife throughout the State of California will purchase one "Blindcraft" broom each year, the number of blind furnished with employment will be a revelation.

In addition to the Broom Department, the blind of "Blindcraft" manufacture a splendid quality of Reed and Rattan woven furniture. The salesroom in "Blindcraft" Building offers a large line of artistic household furnishings, all of which are manufactured by the blind in "Blindcraft" Building. Their purchase encourages the blind who have made them, in addition to assuring the workmen's wages.

Don't fail to visit "Blindcraft" Building when in San Francisco.

Will you further the interests of the blind in your community by encourging your neighbors to buy a "Blindcraft" broom? If not already stocked, insist that your grocer carry "Blindcraft" brooms, being sure to verify the trademark, consisting of two pedestal ferneries with the name "Blindcraft" between.

Christian Science

"Life" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, January 15, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, in Boston, Mass.

The citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon will include the following from the Bible: "O Lord, how manifold are thy works! in wisdom hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches. Thou sendest forth thy spirit, they are created: and thou renewest the face of the earth. I will sing unto the Lord as long as I live: I will sing praise to my God while I have my being" (Ps. 104:24, 30, 33).

The Lesson-Sermon also will include the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "God is divine Life, and Life is no more confined to forms which reflect it than substance is in its shadow. If life was in mortal man or material things, it would be subject to their limitations and would end in death. Life is Mind, the creator reflected in His creations" (p. 331).

CAUTION AT CORNERS URGED BY CAMPAIGN

Failure to reduce speed and give the right of way to the car on the right at intersections is a frequent cause of traffic accidents resulting in death or serious injury, according to a statement by the Public Safety Department of the California State Automobile Association. The motorists' organization is assisting the California Committee on Public Safety in a statewide campaign this month emphasizing the need for careful driving and observance of the right of way rule at intersections. "Courtesy At Corners Avoid Crashes" is the slogan suggested to motorists.

BERKELEY—(UP)—Like a mailman who goes for a walk on his day off, Fire Captain Edgar Stutt spent his day off at home and his house caught fire.

LOS ANGELES—(UP)—The burglary of the California warehouse garage here recently was a "clean job." The intruders stole 29,600 cakes of toilet soap.

Nevada County's Crime Cost Is $1.60 Per Capita

By HOMER L. ROBERTS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Cal. Jan. 12—(UP)—Nevada county's cost of crime, which now represents an annual expenditure of $1.60 for every man, woman and child in the county, could be greatly reduced by the consolidation of city and county police functions.

Such is the recommendation of the Crime Problems Advisory Committee created by the last legislature. The committee headed by Rolland A. Vandegrift, state director of finance, showed a total cost of crime for all counties of barely $12,500,000, as compared with receipts from fines of $1,800,000.

In order to obtain accurate data on the cost of crime, the committee's research workers, Richard Graves and Howard Gardner, of the bureau of public administration, University of California, made personal trips into all counties and major cities of the state.

They found, for example, that the average per capita cost of government for all counties is $57.99, while the average per capita cost of crime for all counties is $1.96.

Other recommendations of the commission were:

That wherever practical from the standpoint of criminal law enforcement the police agencies in cities and counties be consolidated into a metropolitan or district police.

That wherever centers of population in different counties are not too far apart, and conditions make advisable the erection of a new jail or establishing a penal farm, two or more neighboring counties join in the undertaking and share the costs.

That the state bureau of criminal investigation make a study of the organization, equipment and methods employed by city police and sheriff's offices to establish minimum standards.

That the bureau of public administration of the University of California make a study of probation and parole methods and recommend improvements.

That plans be made for the segregation and classification of prisoners before the new prison in Southern California is completed.

That more intensive use of probationary supervisors of the delinquent child in his own or foster home be made, with a state subsidy to counties conditioned upon meeting required standards.

That too many offenses are made punishable as felonies which are not sufficiently serious in themselves to warrant such penalties. (Drunken driving, where no death or bodily injury results; killing of an elk; or driving a car without owner's consent when there is clearly no intent to steal.)

MOTORISTS FIGHT RAID ON GAS TAX

Flatly challenging the proposal of the state administration to deprive the highway fund of millions of dollars of gasoline tax revenue for the benefit of the state general fund, organized motorists will make a vigorous and uncompromising fight to defeat the plan. This is the declaration of Percy E. Towne, chairman of the Legislative Committee of the California State Automobile Association. Standing with motorists against diversion of highway funds to general state purposes, Towne pointed out, are scores of other groups, including the State Federation of Labor and various chambers of commerce.

The proposed diversion of gasoline tax money contemplates taking $8,779,750 immediately and an additional sum of $8,500,000 for the 1933-35 biennium.

"This plan would place the state in the position of a trustee who deliberately misuses money placed in his hands to be expended for a specific purpose," Towne said. "It would amount to a callous repudiation of a solemn pledge given the motoring public when the gasoline tax laws were enacted. These taxes are not really taxes at all in the strict sense of the word, but rather a special use charge willingly assumed by motorists for the sole and exclusive purpose of constructing and maintaining highways.

"An attempt is being made to justify this raid on the gasoline tax on the ground that the amounts are the same as are required to be paid out of the general fund for old outstanding highway bond issues. We even hear the surprising claim that previous payments on these bonds have amounted to diversion of money from the general fund. The fact is that those bonds were voted by all the people for the general benefit of the state long before there was a gasoline tax. It was expressly provided that the bonds should be retired out of the general fund.

"Consequently, the proposed diversion of gasoline tax funds becomes simply a means of passing on to the already overtaxed motorist a discriminatory share of the general tax burden."

OLD GOLD COIN ATTRACTING INTEREST

PLACERVILLE, Cal., Jan. 12—(UP)—A $2.50 gold piece dated 1835 is attracting the interest of local coin collectors.

O'Neil has refused an offer of $25 for it.

RAILROAD TRACKS A POOR HIGHWAY

BERKELEY, Cal., Janl. 12—(UP)—Railroad tracks do not a highway make.

That's what Frank R. Delaney discovered when he tried to drive his automobile along railroad tracks to Oakland mole. He was on his way to San Francisco and was taking the shortest route. His car stalled and three trains stalled likewise. One of them with its engine against Delaney's machine.

He was held in jail in default of $200 because of the "hold up."

Clean Distributor Cap

The distributor cap should be cleaned occasionally on the inside in order to remove any grit or other foreign substance, advises the Free Emergency Road Service of the California State Automobile Association. A rubber eraser and soft cloth are best for this purpose. Emery cloth or sandpaper should never be used for such work.

Since then, LeBouef claims, the cat has learned to use the wooden paw to deliver the knockout blow to mice.

MAURICE CHEVALIER PLAYS STAR ROLE IN "LOVE ME TONIGHT"

Maurice Chevalier,, the star of "Love Me Tonight," coming to the Donner Theatre on Saturday night, was born in the humble section of Paris known as Menilmontant—the equivalent of New York's East Side.

An apprentice in a nail factory, his heart continually longed for the stage. His first job was as a singer in a little Paris cafe, for a few francs per week. By arduous years of trouping, mostly as a "putty-nose" comic with outlandish clothes, he finally came to fame as the dancing partner of the famous Mlle. Mistinguette.

During the war he was wounded and captured by the Germans. Learning to speak English from a fellow-prisoner was one of his activities while at the prison camp. Another one was to escape from the stockade, and make his way to Paris.

The war over, Elsie Janis persuaded him to appear with her "gang" in a London Revue, "Hello America.

Later he became the recognized musical comedy idol of England and the continent. Jesse L. Lasky persuaded him to come to Paramount Pictures in 1928. He made "Innocents of Paris," a talkie success, and has since been in a number of Paramount hits, incuding "The Big Pond," "The Love Parade," "The Smiling Lieutenant" and now, "Love Me Tonight."
